

A series of horizontal lines for writing, spanning most of the page width.

A series of horizontal lines for writing, starting from the top right of the first flower and extending across the page, ending at the bottom right of the large flower.